

ANNUAL REPORT

2009 IDAHO PUBLIC TELEVISION

Idaho Public Television Statement of Activities for Fiscal Year Ending June 30, 2009

Fiscal Year 2009 began in July, 2008, when evidence of global economic troubles were emerging. Over the course of the year, the slowing economy affected some funding sources for Idaho Public Television (IdahoPTV).

IdahoPTV was not immune to losses in investment income and other sources of revenue. Reduced private contributions reflected the difficulties that our generous supporters faced in trying to maintain consistent levels of giving.

In spite of these setbacks, IdahoPTV remains dedicated to providing sustained service to all Idahoans. Private contributors value our service and continue to provide the largest share of support. We are especially grateful to these generous members and partners who ensure the future of IdahoPTV.

With the close of the fiscal year, IdahoPTV nears completion of a decade-long project to convert from analog broadcast to federally mandated digital broadcast throughout the state. IdahoPTV now delivers high-quality television on four digital channels statewide. Looking ahead, we continue to seek ways to improve our services and identify efficiencies within our operation.

Fiscal Year 2010: OUTLOOK FOR THE FUTURE

Projected Operations Budget, FY 2010 – $7,090,506

Idaho Public Television is a private/public partnership in which private, state and CPB Community Service Grant support is interdependent. Among these, the greatest percentage of support is private.

63% PRIVATE AND CORPORATE — $4,458,106

Private and corporate support will provide 63 percent, the largest share of the operating budget. These dollars purchase programming and fund local productions such as OUTDOOR IDAHO and DIALOGUE.

23% STATE — $1,659,800

The state portion of revenue is 23 percent for annual maintenance and operation expenses for the statewide delivery system. The state also funds certain administrative and operational expenses.

14% CPB COMMUNITY SERVICE GRANT — $972,600

This fiscal year, CPB grant funding will contribute 14 percent. Funds from the Corporation for Public Broadcasting Community Service Grant provide programming assistance and general support of administrative operations.

Projected One-Time Capital — $818,880

For Fiscal Year 2010, all one-time capital will be provided through federal, corporate, non-profit and private contributions.
